THE LOUWMAN MUSEUM

The Louwman Museum in The Hague is the place where over 150 years of progress, innovation and design is visibly represented in a unique collection of more than 275 showpieces from automotive history. The collection of special cars and memorabilia not only provides a comprehensive picture of the development of mobility, but also of technical innovations, design and increasing prosperity. From the first electric car, which is more than a century old, to the most dazzling designs from the 20th century. In addition to the extensive collection of automobiles, the Louwman Museum also offers an impressive collection of car-related art, posters, miniatures and trophies.

SURROUNDED BY INSPIRATION

Surprise and inspire your guests during a meeting or gathering in the unique environment of the Louwman Museum. The Louwman Museum offers fully catered packages for groups of 10 to 40 people. Make a choice from one of our three inspiring spaces and combine this as desired with a lunch on the Museum Square and a visit to our museum collection. Our meeting rooms can be booked from Tuesday to Friday from 09:00 to 17:00 hrs.

A SPECIAL LOCATION

Covering an area of 16,000 sq metres spread over 3 floors, the Louwman Museum offers unprecedented opportunities. The museum building was designed by world-famous architect Michael Graves. Lodewijk Baljon's garden landscape provides for a beautiful connection with the nearby Haagse Bos.

ALL-IN ARRANGEMENTS

The Louwman Museum has fixed rates for groups of 10 to 40 people. You can choose a morning, afternoon or whole day. Prices always include room rental, standard facilities such as WiFi, projector or screen and sound system and flipchart. Guests can always use the (unattended) cloakroom and they can of course also visit the museum collection. Our meeting rooms can be booked from Tuesday to Friday.
